VOL. III. RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1868. NO. 262.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the Richmond Whig.

"BUT FOR THE REPUBLICAN PARTY."

Mr. Colfax, the light-weight on the Republican side of the national prize ring, assures us, in his letter of acceptance, that "the past record of the Republican party cannot be blotted out or forgotten." The more's the pity. "If there had been no Republican party," he continues, "slavery would to-day cast its baleful shadow over the Republic." In which case there would have been four million of the happiest human beings on earth, instead of a helpless and miserable horde to be preyed upon by vice, disease and want; to grow less in numbers, lower in character, worse off in condition, regularly and certainly, until extinction has relieved us of their presence and them of their woes. "If there had been no Republican party a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grande as ten years ago." If the truth could be arrived at, it would show that the freedom of the press has been invaded by violence ten times as often North of the Potomac as it ever was South of it. "If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of no coercion was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day." If the Republican party had never had an existence, "the banner of rebellion," would never have been unfurled. "But for the Republican party," and so on, and so on.

If Mr. Colfax had not had his head turned by the nomination he received, he would have avoided a style of composition so apt to invite imitation, or rather continuation, by those who reflect more thoughtfully than he what might have been, or not have been, but for the Republican party. If there had been no Republican party, the bloodiest, cruelest and most unnatural war of modern times would have been escaped; there would not have been half a million of graves filled by brave young men who had little or nothing to do with bringing on war; there would not have been the anxiety, suffering and desolation that is some form or other entered almost every household in the land; there would not be thousands of families reduced from affluence to want; there would not be a national debt so enormous and crushing in its proportions that the only escape from it is in the national disgrace of repudiation; there would not be a Constitution that was the admiration of the world trampled into the mire and so utterly debauched and befouled as to be of no possible use in the future; there would not be the finest system of government invented, and the most hopeful experiment of self-government ever tried, destroyed in principle and theory, and keeping up for a while longer only sham pretences and mocking forms.

Even in spite of the war there might have been much that was valuable saved from the wreck, but for the Republican party. Everything was in their hands. The ability to restore the Union, preserve the States, re-establish civil authority, curtail expenditures, exact honesty in public officers, revive the sources of business, succor the unfortunate and secure general prosperity, was in Congress, where the Radical party held more than two-thirds of its members subject to its bidding. And what is the result? The Union unrestored, States dethroned, the country distracted—military dictation controlling one-third of it—expenses undiminished—enormous taxation weighing down industry—usurpation by one branch of Government over the other branches, and a bold attempt made to convert the very genius of Republican Institutions into a Congressional despotism that defies the restraints of the fundamental law of the land and tramples upon the rights of the citizen guarded by its provisions.

But it is useless to continue the subject. What we have said has been merely suggestive. If one would know what we owe to the Republican party, he has only to compare what we are with what we were. Si monumentum quaris, circumspice!

From the Chicago Times.

Governor Baker, of Indiana, made a speech at the decoration of soldiers' graves in Indianapolis, last Saturday, commencing as follows:

"The humanizing influence of our modern Christian civilization is marked by the increased interest taken by the living in the last resting places of the departed.

"Moved by this influence, we stand to-day in one of the beautiful, quiet cities of the dead, and in a ward of that city which is consecrated as the burial-place of brave and true men who died in the military service of their and our country.

"We come to these graves with spring's first floral offerings and with wreaths of evergreens, not because we believe that such tributes of grateful appreciation and pious affection can benefit the honored dead who here sleep, but because we would keep alive in our hearts, and in the hearts of those who shall come after us, a proper love of their virtue and patriotism, and of the cause for which they died."

As an example of what an Indiana Governor can do in the rhetoric line, this is not bad. But, considered in the light of historical accuracy, it is wretched.

It it was the "humanizing influence of our modern Christian civilization" which moved his excellency and his compatriots to strew soldiers' graves with "spring's first floral offerings," would it have been an unchristian act to have stated how that humanizing influence was brought to bear upon them?

The practice of decorating the graves of soldiers with "spring's first floral offerings" was first inaugurated by those unchristian, semi-barbarous, and altogether inhuman wretches, the "red-handed rebels." So shocked was the Northern sense of loyalty thereat, that a military edict was promulgated to suppress this manifestation of interest in the resting-places of the departed. It may not have been that the military satraps were moved thereto by "the humanizing influence of our modern Christian civilization"; nevertheless, the fact has become history; and it is only proper that historic truth should be recognized at all times. The fact simply is, that a very appropriate practice, which began among Southern rebels, and which was suppressed, when first discovered, as an indication of a "rebellious spirit,' was afterwards introduced, and has since been imitated, in the North. A decent regard for truth would hardly endeavor to conceal this fact by ascribing the origin of the practice in Indiana to the "humanizing influence of our modern Christian civilization."

THE SOUTHERN VOTE FOR PRESIDENT.—Speaking of the design of the Radicals to elect a President by aid of the Freedmen's Bureau, the National Intelligencer says:

"But it is as well that these desperate demagogues should know that the American people will not tamely submit to be defrauded of their rights, or to be cheated out of the election of President by fabricated negro votes, as was recently done in this city, whether it suits the convenience of General Grant or not."

The same paper, referring to a covert suggestion that the Democratic National Convention might recommend "impartial suffrage," says:

"Under whatever specious forms of language this heresy (negro suffrage) may be wrapped up, it is none the less impertinent and offensive to the honest convictions of the Conservative masses of the country.—The votes of Ohio and Michigan, repudiating negro suffrage altogether by forty thousand majority each, form the key-note to the real feelings and convictions of the people, which politicians will only tamper with at their peril."

THE OMNIBUS BILL.

This bill, after having been very fully discussed in the Senate and amended in several particulars, was passed on Wednesday night, after our telegraphic dispatches had come to hand. The vote stood: Ayes 31, Nays 5. The bill, having been amended since it came from the House, will be returned at once, and, of course, passed. Should the vote, by which it was adopted, indicate that a Presidential veto will avail nothing, it is probable that it will be retained by the President, for ten days, and thus become a law.

The bill approves the new Constitutions of the States of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, and Florida, except the relief or repudiation clause of the Georgia Constitution, and similar clauses, if found in other Constitutions, and admits to representation in Congress the representatives of said States, as soon as their respective Legislatures shall adopt the Howard amendment, as a part of the Constitution of the United States, and give a pledge that the Constitutions of the States shall never be amended so as to change the terms of suffrage in respect of color or condition. An amendment to the bill provides for the immediate inauguration of the officers elected under the new Constitution, who are not disfranchised by the reconstruction acts, or the fourteenth amendment. It is understood, however, that a bill will soon be passed, removing the disabilities of those who have been elected, who are in accord with the Radical party.

This bill clearly ignores the Radical doctrine that these are not States in the Union, in that it declares them to be States, but simply agrees to admit their representatives under certain conditions. These conditions will certainly be complied with by the Legislatures already elected, and the only difficulty or obstruction to speedy "Reconstruction," on the Radical programme, is found in the legislation of Congress itself.

Gen. Canby requires, in order to the inauguration of the new officers elect, whether executive, judicial or legislative, the taking of the test-oath. The Omnibus Bill, just passed by the Senate, does not relieve that difficulty. It authorizes the inauguration only of those officers, at once, who are qualified, i. e., are not under disabilities. Therefore, all who are disqualified by the reconstruction acts cannot "at once" be inaugurated. But Congress will "at once" remove the disabilities of those who have been elected by the Radicals, or who are in accord with Congress. How will that work? The government being still provisional, Gen. Canby seems to suspend the test-oath, by his order, so far as those are concerned whose disabilities have been removed by Congress,—but can he do this? Can he, or Gen. Grant, suspend a law of Congress? Certainly not. Now Congress says, in the first reconstruction act, section 6, that until Congress declares the people of the "rebel" States admitted to representation, the governments of those States are provisional, and that, as long as they are provisional, all new officers elected or appointed shall take the test-oath. It is believed that a quorum of our Legislature cannot take the test-oath, and it is known that many of the State officers elect, both executive and judicial, cannot take that oath. Therefore, it is plain, unless Congress rescinds its acts, which require the test-oath of officers elected under the existing governments, the new government cannot go into operation, unless a quorum of the Legislature can take the test-oath. When the Legislature meets and passes the Howard amendment, &c., then all difficulties are removed, for the reason that the test oath will not then be required.

LAFLIN AND POETRY.

At midnight of Wednesday, Gen. Laflin, of New York, via Pitt County, who has been one of the outside riders on the Omnibus, sticking to his seat with a pertinacity worthy of all commendation at the hands of the faithful, telegraphed the result of the vote in the Senate to his expectant friend, Holden. In the exuberance of his young, joyous, gushing feelings, he launches forth, telegraphically, into poetry—for is not Byron his name, and was he not holding sweet converse, at the witching hour of night, with a congenial brother Poet, whose "Ode to Calhoun" has been so generally admired? We learn that Byron thus "poured out his whole soul" along the "trembling strings" of the—telegraph:

"Sound the loud timbrel o'er Carolina's dark sea!"

There is force and appositeness in this idea—"dark sea." It is seldom that a figurative expression so aptly illustrates the actual fact. It is dark—very dark.

But the General, doubtless feeling piously inclined, was probably thinking of the good old hymn, which commences:

"Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea,"

and the paraphrase very naturally suggested itself. Egypt in Africa—and Africanized North Carolina? Why not?

The General doubtless slept well after his successful ride on the Omnibus and subsequent toyings with the Muse.

THE WASHINGTON correspondent of the Syracuse Journal, who writes in a very orgular vein, speaking of the forthcoming Senators from the South, says:

"In North Carolina, Gen. Abbott, of Wilmington, formerly of New Hampshire, will be one Senator, and Gen. Dougherty, a native of the State, probably the other."

The writer means Dockery, when he says "Dougherty." Such is fame. But where's poor Pool!

HINDRANCES TO IMMIGRATION.

We are satisfied that nothing is calculated to play a more effective part in solving the political as well as material problems in the South than the element of immigration, and we have lost, and shall omit, no opportunity to encourage it to our midst,—we mean immigration of the right sort. Such satire as the following from the Chicago Times, however, (which, unfortunately, has too much foundation in fact,) will do more, we fear, to divert immigration from our borders than all that we could possibly say to promote it. Such "inducements" may bring to our midst a horde of scallawags and carpet-baggers, as they have already done, but they will not attract white men, who are "not ashamed of their color."

"A great many inducements are now offered to emigrants to go into the Southern States. There is a fair prospect that, in every town, there will be a negro justice of the peace and constable; in every city, a negro mayor and board of aldermen; in every circuit or district court, a negro judge; in every legislature, a majority of negro members; in every school, a majority of negro children; and, at least once in every year, every white family will be visited by a negro tax collector to gather the taxes imposed by a negro legislature and negro board of supervisors. White men will work to pay the taxes, and negroes will collect and expend them. Under Congo statesmanship, it may be expected that the State governments will be wisely and economically administered. "Reconstruction" has given the South great peace and prosperity, and will continue to do so. It is now a pleasant and profitable section of the country for white men to live in."

These things can be but of short duration, if, by keeping before the world the eminent advantages of our climate and soil, the boundless diversity of our resources, and the opportunities which present themselves for the investment of capital and the display of enterprize, we can, notwithstanding the discouragements satirized by the Times, succeed in attracting the tide of immigration hitherward. We do not disguise the fact that perhaps the chief reason, which impels us to advocate immigration so earnestly, is the belief that nothing will sooner take us out from under the black cloud which impends over us. In this matter of so-called reconstruction, the Radical party has done more to retard the recuperative energies and material progress of the South, than could have been accomplished, in any other way, in years. It has taken its lessons from Hayti and Mexico, instead of from the enlightened white governments of the world. Or, rather, it has taken its lessons from the promptings of a cowardly revenge and a sordid and mercenary party greed, instead of from the dictates of intelligence and magnanimity. Of the latter it is as incapable as its negro pets are of self-government.

One of the greatest hopes of our relief lies in the immigration of industrious, intelligent, respectable white men. And though we cannot wonder, notwithstanding all the physical and material capabilities of the South, that such should hesitate, in view of such articles as that which we copy above from the Chicago Times, we would say to that paper that it can best exhibit its regard for the South, and its sympathy in our misfortunes, (which we believe are genuine and earnest,) by persuading the worthy class of its population, who are looking out for opportunities of bettering their fortunes, to come South. They will find a field for active and profitable labor and enterprise, and they can assist in the great mission of asserting the prerogatives of their race, and rescuing their fellow-countrymen from the evils with which they have been surrounded by an infamous party, for infamous purposes.

INFAMOUS.—We are told that the Radical paper in this city publishes an anonymous letter, giving an account of the Commencement exercises at Chapel Hill, in which the ladies who were present are spoken of as "haughty and devilish," and ladies of the village are designated as a "snuff-dipping" set. A warfare of this sort upon ladies has always been justly regarded as simply dastardly and infamous, but it is in keeping with the spirit of Radicalism. The true secret of the contemptible writer's spleen (whoever he is) is, doubtless, to be found in the fact that he has been tabooed, as he, and all like him, deserve to be. That is the raw place with all sich.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE.—The Washington correspondent of the Syracuse Journal gives an account of a reported interview between Judge Chase and Jim Harris (negro) of this City. Mr. Chase is represented as expressing his surprise that his friend, "Mr. Harris," had not called on him before, —as expressing disapprobation of Gen. Hancock's course in the Fifth District, &c. Jim doubtless furnished the letter-writer with his points, and, consequently, there is, in all probability, no truth in them.

THE HON. Jebu Baker, of Illinois, (our Jehu,) being suspected of being too intimate with Senator Trumbull, has been overslaughed by a Radical Congressional nominating Convention.

JUDGE BATTLE.—He will carry with him in his retirement the profound regard of the whole profession in North Carolina.—In the unblemished purity of his private character, in his extensive learning, in his acknowledged ability and rigid impartiality, Judge Battle was a worthy successor of the great Jurists who preceded him, and a co-adjuter on the bench of the Supreme Court, whose absence must be severely felt by his former learned associates. But the State has claims on the matured wisdom of her sons, as well as on their early energy and vigor, and she cannot afford to permit the entire seclusion of this gifted citizen.—Advanced age rendered the retirement of the illustrious Ruffin fully excusable; he had served his country long, faithfully and well, and his fellow-citizens regretfully acquiesced in his wish to be allowed to enjoy, during the remainder of his days, that "otium cum dignitate," which can only follow a virtuous and well spent life. But Judge Battle is yet in vigorous health. As a law professor, he has few superiors, and by devoting himself to the instruction of young men in the "Science of Jurisprudence," he will lay in them the foundation of future usefulness, and to some extent, at least, fill the measure of that duty which he owes to his native State.—Wilmington Journal Cor.

MEMORIAL DAY IN PETERSBURG.—Tuesday last was observed as Memorial Day in Petersburg. The Index furnishes an interesting account of the commemoration, from which we make the following extract:

"The scene along the streets, from Sycamore to the gates of the Confederate cemetery, was one of rare beauty, and well calculated to attract the attention even of the most unimaginative. But the sight was most striking and impressive at the cemetery. There were collected under the eye, thousands of Petersburg's beautiful daughters, and honored and gallant sons, and bright and lovely children. Upon hilltop, upon hillside, and in the valley they were seen—among tombstones and graves, and amidst shrubbery—a grand living panorama—the variegated colors of dress adding to the scene. The dark habiliments of mourning were profusely intermingled with the gayer and lighter colors of the season, and together they formed a most suggestive and interesting spectacle.

Arrived upon the spot the vehicles were quickly unloaded of their floral freight, and the ceremonies of the decoration were begun. The cemetery was divided into sections—each section being assigned to a special committee of ladies—so that there was or could be no possibility of neglect—even of a single grave—in any instance.—The supply of flowers and evergreens was abundant, and the 2,500 or 3,000 graves all received attention. We have never seen a more elegant display of flowers, nor a more beautiful arrangement. The very air was scented with their perfume, and the grounds—already adorned by nature's hand—rendered lovelier still.

Into crosses, and wreaths, and bouquets, and hearts, and stars, and other shapes, had nature's ornaments been fashioned by the hand of art, and laid as offerings upon the sleeping bosoms of our heroes."

IMPORTANT DECISION BY THE CHIEF JUSTICE.—Chief Justice Chase, now presiding at the United States Circuit court in this city, rendered a decision in the case of Moore & Brother, of Baltimore, against Foster & Moore, of Norfolk, which will have a very important bearing on the settlement of drafts, negotiable notes and other commercial paper sent from the Confederate to the United States during the war.

The case in which this decision was given is as follows: Just before the war Foster & Moore, who lived in Norfolk, executed their note for $920 to Moore & Brother, of Baltimore. This note fell due after the war had commenced, and while Norfolk was in the possession of the Confederate troops. After the evacuation of Norfolk, Moore & Bro. agreed to receive from Foster & Moore Virginia Bank notes in payment of their debt. Foster & Moore thereupon paid $1,000 in Virginia bank notes for a draft drawn by the Bank of North Carolina, at Windsor, on the Bank of Portsmouth for $1,000. They sent this draft endorsed by Maury & Co., and Smith & Co., of Norfolk, to Moore & Bro. They kept the draft and neglected to send it for collection until the Portsmouth bank, some six weeks afterwards, removed its deposit into the Confederate lines. This was in the year 1862.—They held the draft until 1867, when they tendered it to Foster & Moore, who refused to receive it. They then brought suit on the original debt, ignoring the draft.

The case was heard yesterday before the Chief Justice. Each party offered instructions to the jury.

The Chief Justice then instructed the jury that if they believed that the town of Windsor, N. C., was within the Confederate lines at the time the draft was drawn, or if it was not permanently under the control of the Federal authorities, the draft was void and no account. He said any draft or negotiable note or commercial paper of any kind drawn during the war, by any bank or person in the Confederate lines upon any bank or person in the Federal lines, was in violation of an act of Congress and of the proclamation of the President thereupon, and was void as to makers and endorsers, and could not be received as satisfaction for any debt.

The point to be decided in the case in which this was rendered, was, whether at the time the draft was made, the town of Windsor, N. C., was within the Federal or Confederate lines.—Richmond Examiner, 10th.

DECORATION OF GRAVES OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS NEAR BALTIMORE.—The tribute of relatives and friends to the memory of departed Confederate soldiers who died here and were interred in London Park Cemetery was rendered on Saturday afternoon last by large numbers, mostly ladies and children, who made their way to the cemetery for the purpose. The afternoon was clear and bright, adding attractiveness to the natural and artificial beauties of the grounds, inviting pedestrians, as well as others in carriages and by the passenger railway, to the spot. The ceremony took place between 3 and 5 o'clock. The Confederate graves lie in a handsome oak grove, sloping to a vale, on the west side of the grounds, in regular rows, to the number of nearly two hundred. The scene was subdued and solemn, while both young and old for some two hours continued their offerings, until every mound was almost entirely covered with flowers. An aged lady approached two graves, to which for a time she appeared to pay special attention.—Beautiful wreaths of cypress, interwoven with white blossoms, were carefully laid at the head of each, while bouquets were scattered in profusion the entire length of the little mounds which marked the spot where repose the remains of her two sons. The tribute was participated in by all classes of ladies, until the whole space occupied by the Confederate graves presented the appearance of a rich conservatory.

The graves, though neatly sodded, are without headstones, and the suggestion being made for a collection to supply such, some $200 were subscribed on the spot, and a large portion of it paid in cash.—Sun, 8th.

FLORIDA.—Forney's Chronicle of yesterday says:

A special dispatch published elsewhere announces that the new Legislature of Florida completed a permanent organization yesterday, and ratified the thirteenth and fourteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States. Florida has thus fulfilled all the conditions preliminary to admission under the reconstruction acts, and will doubtless soon present herself with her senators and representatives at the doors of Congress, ready to reassume her normal relations with the Federal Union. Her Legislature adjourned to the 15th. instant, when it reassembles for the purpose of electing United States Senators.

In a letter hitherto unpublished, dated August, 1857, the late Lord Brougham explained to a curious correspondent his now famous saying, "The schoolmaster is abroad." His Lordship wrote: "The expression to which Mr. —— refers, of the schoolmaster abroad, was first used by Lord Brougham in the debate January 29, 1828, in the House of Commons. What he meant was that the schoolmaster was in the field to instruct the people, and that they had no occasion to fear oppression from other quarters. It had been a common saying before that the soldier was abroad, and would have his own in the world."

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

ASSETS, $9,000,000.

No. POLICIES 52,700.

DIVISIBLE SURPLUS $1,884,768,51.

DIVIDENDS 50 per cent.

In these days of competition between Life Insurance Companies, much is said by rival Agents, each claiming the Company he represents to be the best. Without saying anything in disparagement of any Company, or, by simple assertion, anything in its favor, the ÆTNA begs leave to refer to the annexed table, compiled from the OFFICIAL and SWORN statements of twenty of the largest Companies in America, made to the Insurance Commissioners of the State of New York. The table shows the ratio of expense to each $100 received by each Company, for the three years ending January 1, 1868.

It will be seen that the expenses of the Ætna are much lower than any other Company; and, after the average is struck, the Ætna, in 1865, saved $10 41 out of each $100 received—more than the average; in 1866, $7 17, and in 1867, $4 90. The receipts of the Ætna were, in 1865, $1,655,809; in 1866, $3,522,376, and in 1867, $5,129,447. Consequently, its savings in the three years were $677,939. saved over the average of all other Companies.

This is the measure of success, as applied by the Hon Elizur Wright, the greatest of American actuaries, to all Companies, and simply means that the Company whose RATIO of expense to its income is the least, is the best able to pay large dividends to its policy holders. That the Ætna is that Company, these comparisons of official statements plainly show.

Large importations of Sweet Cuba Molasses, in prime new packages, direct from Cardenas, and selected specially for the Summer trade: O. G. Parsley & Co., Wilmington.

Notice of application to the Legislature for an act incorporating the "North Carolina Life Assurance, Annuity and Trust Co."

The Fifty-third Term of St. Mary's School, in this City, will open July 16th.

We invite particular attention to the announcement of a grand Auction, by W. H. Jones & Co., to commence on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock, at their store, on Fayetteville street. The catalogue embraces useful, elegant and attractive articles.

BLACK CROOK—TEMPLETON'S CORPS.—The inclemency of the weather prevented the usual full attendance at Tucker Hall, last evening, on occasion of the third rendition of the Black Crook. Those who were present, however, expressed their satisfaction and entertainment in the most cordial manner. The Company embraces much talent, and the spectacular displays are gorgeous and impressive. Indeed, it is generally remarked that few exhibitions have been received in Raleigh with more decided evidences of popularity.

To-night and to-morrow night, a highly pleasing programme is presented. Fanchon is a charming and beautiful play, while the very name of Ku Klux Klan is suggestive of something mysterious, to say the least of it. There will doubtless be crowded houses on both occasions.

THE YARBOROUGH House has been overflowing with guests for a fortnight. We hear but one opinion as to the quality of Blair's entertainment. Everybody says it is A No. 1. What everybody says must be so, and, in this case, is so.

BANK OF NORTH CAROLINA.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of North Carolina was held in the Banking House, in this city, on yesterday.

On motion of Hon. D. M. Barringer, Hon. R. Y. McAden was appointed Chairman, and W. J. Yates, Esq., requested to act as Secretary.

On motion, G. W. Mordecai, D. M. Barringer and K. P. Battle were appointed a Committee to ascertain the amount of Stock represented and verify proxies.

This Committee reported 15,886 shares represented in person and by proxy, which is a majority of the whole Stock.

The President of the Bank, G. W. Mordecai, Esq., made a report as to the probable condition of the institution.

On motion of K. P. Battle, Esq., the salary of the President was fixed at $3,000 for the ensuing year.

The meeting re elected the former Board of Directors, as follows: G. W. Mordecai, B. F. Moore, Jno. H. Bryan, W. R. Cox, D. M. Barringer, T. H. Selby and W. R. Poole.

HO! FOR NEW YORK.—We announced, on yesterday, that we had official information of the fact that delegates and visitors to the National Democratic Convention, at New York, would be carried to and fro, over all the routes, for one fare. Such is the fact. The following Roads and Steamboat lines have consented to this arrangement, viz: Camden and Amboy, Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore, Baltimore & Ohio Branch, (between Baltimore and Washington,) Richmond & Fredericksburg, Petersburg & Richmond, Petersburg & Roanoke, Annamessic, Seaboard & Roanoke, and Raleigh & Gaston Railroads; and the Bay Line of Steamships, and the Old Dominion Steamship Co., (between Norfolk and New York.) To Dr. Hawkins, President of the Raleigh & Gaston Road, is due the credit, we think, of having secured this arrangement. We presume that the other lines in North Carolina, and those in the States South of us, will extend the same facilities.

We may have it in our power, in a day or two, to give precise information as to the cost of the trip under this arrangement.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a visit, on yesterday, from our cotemporary, W. J. Yates, Esq., of the Charlotte Democrat. We are glad to see him in excellent health.

General Emory, now in command of the Department of Washington, is to be relieved of that command in a day or two, and ordered to join his regiment in the West.

STATE NEWS.

We take the following account of the shooting of two negro thieves from the Roanoke News, of Wednesday:

"We understand that a gentleman in the upper end of Northampton, whose name we did not learn, has for some weeks past known that his corn crib was being visited by those who desired to rid him of some of its contents. For nine consecutive nights, two sons of the gentleman were placed upon watch with loaded guns, but the rogues failed to reward them for their labors, but on the tenth night, some few nights since, the two took their positions each with double barrreled guns loaded with buckshot, and at a late hour of the night they espied two darkeys attempting to enter the crib. The negroes were allowed to proceed, filled their bags, came out, and were about to make off, when they were summoned to stop by the two young men, but discovering themselves caught, the bags of corn were thrown down, and darkeydom started to run. The young men fired into them, killing one and wounding another mortally, it is thought. While we deplore the necessity that causes such harsh measures, yet such steps alone can break up the immense lawlessness that has been for some time past demoralizing the South."

We learn, from the Wilmington Star, that two negro children, one about two years old and another younger, were burnt to death in Richmond county, a few days since. It seems that the mother of the children left them playing in the house, to go to mill, and upon returning found the whole house in flames it being too late to rescue them. It is conjectured that the children, during her absence, got to playing with the fire and thus caused the catastrophie.

Roanoke fishermen about Weldon are mourning the departure of rock, shad, &c. Sturgeon are abundant.

The corn crop on the Roanoke, up to latest accounts, was in good condition.

A sad accident occurred at Winston on Sunday last. A mule attached to a wagon, in which the family of Col. J. E. Matthews was riding, took fright and ran away, throwing his wife and three children out. Mrs. Matthews and two of her children escaped, with only slight injury, but the other, a little girl about three years of age, was pitched forward, and one of the wheels of the wagon ran across her breast, killing her almost instantly.

The Fayetteville News gives an account of a house on Lumber river, in Robeson County, from the door of which hundreds of yellow perch are caught, that weigh from sixteen to twenty-four ounces. The Editor says that if he had only known of that place being for rent, he would have taken it, at any price, for the term of his natural life.

RALEIGH.—A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from Raleigh, pays the following handsome (and, we think, merited) compliment to our "City of Oaks":

"In the only sermon ever preached by the late Archbishop Hughes in Raleigh, he referred to it as a beautiful city. It well deserves the appellation. I have never seen any city that unites so pleasantly the "res ita urbe." The splendid groves, the wide streets, the tasteful private grounds, the intelligence, refinement and urbanity of the long time dwellers therein, all render it a most delightful place of resort. I saw Columbia, S. C., ere it was laid in ashes by Sherman and his barbarians, but I think that Raleigh is equal to it, even as it appeared then. The State House at Columbia promised at that time to become a monument of the highest architectural skill and an honor to the State, but I doubt much whether, even if completed according to the original design, it can excel the Capitol of North Carolina. The latter building grows upon our admiration. Plain, unpretending, solid, strong, massive, majestic—like the character of the people it represents."

THE "WORLD" REPUDIATED.—A good deal of feeling has been excited in Democratic circles here by an editorial in the New York World, acquiescing, to some extent, in the doctrine of universal or negro suffrage. The Chase men are, of course, well pleased with the article, and think that it argues well for the prospects of the Chief Justice at the 4th. of July New York Convention. The disposition among members of the House and of Democratic leaders here seems to be to declare against negro suffrage anywhere unless it shall be established by the will of the people. That is, the absolute right of the States, North and South, to control their own State organizations upon this subject is to be fully recognized.—Washington Telegram to Sun.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—Several hundred acres of property were sold yesterday, (under execution) by the Sheriff, at astonishingly low figures. Over 9000 acres of land, and a nice house and lot in one of the most pleasant parts of the City, sold for the small sum of $1,000, less than one-eighth its value. Another house and lot in the city, on East Front Street, sold for $500, and all the property put up sold at about the same rates. After the new Constitution goes into operation we may expect to see the best lands in the county selling for about one-fifth of the rates that this property brought.—Newbern Journal of Commerce.

GENERAL MEADE—THE ALABAMA CONSTITUTION.—General Meade arrived here to-day and visited the President. He says he sent a communication to General Grant stating that it would be a great wrong to admit Alabama on her new Constitution, and that the great body of the people of all parties do not want the Constitution in its present form accepted; and that office seekers and officers elect are the only parties who advocate the reception of it. General Meade, after leaving the President, visited the Senate and gave similar information to Senators.—Wes. Cor. Rich. Dispatch.

A dispatch from Washington says: "It is reported by the friends of Senator Grimes that it is his intention to enter suits against the New York Tribune and the Cincinnati Gazette for libel. The suit against the former will be founded upon a charge in the Tribune that he voted for the acquittal of the President under corrupt influence; and the latter on the charge that he was guilty of corruption while chairman of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, during and since the late war."

RE-ELECTION OF SENATOR SPRAGUE.—Providence, R. I., June 9.—Mr. Sprague was to-day re elected to the Senate without opposition in either branch of the Legislature.

All that a good local editor wants to know about an occurrence is the names of the parties to it. He can put in the details to suit himself.—Lynchburg Republican.

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE ON THE SITUATION.

The following confidential letter from Chief Justice Chase to a personal friend has been handed to me. It so distinctly marks the present position and sentiments of Mr. Chase on important political questions that I do not feel at liberty to withhold its publication:

WASHINGTON, May 25, 1868.

MY DEAR SIR:—You are right in believing that I "shall never abandon the great principles for the success of which I have given my entire life." I adhere to my "old creed of equal rights," without one jot or tittle of abatement. I shall be glad if the new professors of that creed adhere to it as faithfully.

I am amazed by the torrent of invectives by which I am drenched. Almost everything alleged as fact is falsehood out of the whole cloth. Where an allegation has a little fact in it, the fact is so perverted and travestied that it becomes falsehood. I know no motive for all this except disappointment that impeachment has not thus far proved a success, coupled with a belief that I have done something to prevent its being a success. I have not been a partisan of impeachment certainly; but I have not been a partisan on the other side. As presiding officer over the trial my conscience testifies that I have been strictly impartial; and I am sure that any one who reads the report will say so. Individually I have my convictions and opinions, but I have very seldom given utterance to them. Indeed, I do not think that the case, in any of its aspects, has been the subject of conversation between myself and more than four or five Senators, and then only casually and briefly. No Senator will say that I have sought to influence him.

The real ground of denunciation is that I have not been a partisan of conviction; and this denunciation I am willing to bear.—They may denounce and abuse me and read me out of the party, if they choose. I follow my old lights, not the new.

What the developments of the future may be I know not. I neither expect nor desire to be a candidate for office again. It would, however, gratify me exceedingly if the democratic party would take ground which would assure the party against all attempts to subvert the principle of universal suffrage established in eight, and to be established in all, of the Southern constitutions. Then, I think, the future of the great cause—for which I have labored so long—would be secure, and I should not regret my absence from political labors.

SALMON P. CHASE.

A Radical negro and a Conservative negro in Savannah, Ga., quarrelled the other day. A challenge to fight a duel was accepted. But before the hour, the Radical negro became alarmed, and taking a bottle of whiskey with him, went to the house of the Conservative negro, and bought peace. The Conservative negro got all the glory and all the whiskey. A negro had recently been killed in a duel in Savannah.

RELIEF FROM DISABILITIES.—The New York Times continues to oppose the plan of relieving disabilities of Southern men in detail—man at a time—and recommends that some general enactment be adopted by which a sort of wholesale relief shall be granted "as a means of obliterating some of the remaining traces of conflict and putting an end to the most plausible cause of discontent."

Thurlow Weed considers the Oregon election a "sign" and fears that "blind Butler will continue to lead the party into darkness and defeat." Sad, but very likely.

It is said that a number of persons in White county, Arkansas, have been poisoned by eating mulberries from trees on which locusts had deposited their eggs. Several deaths have resulted.

TO LAND OWNERS.

HAVING BEEN APPOINTED, BY THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL AND MINERAL LAND COMPANY, Agent for all that part of North Carolina lying east of and including Catawba County, I am authorized to say, to any person or persons having 2,000 acres in one body, partially cleared and near a Rail Road that if they will subdivide their lands the Company will purchase alternate lots at their assessed value for taxation or as ascertained by two disinterested parties, paying for the same in the Company's stock—the Company obligating itself to place a white settler on every 200 acres, so acquired, within three years, or, failing to do so, such land unsettled to revert to the original owner; the owner to retain possession until the land is settled.

The object of this system is to bring into the State an industrious and thrifty population and to enhance the value of our lands. It has been adopted in other States and is said to be working finely.

This Company was chartered by our Legislature of 1866. Land owners will please address me for particulars at Reidsville, N. C.

PASSAGE OF THE OMNIBUS BILL.

WASHINGTON, June 11, M.

The Senate passed the Omnibus admission Bill, late last night, by a strict party vote. It goes to the House for concurrence in amendments.

Alabama is included. The interdictions of the Howard Amendment are to be enforced in inaugurating the State officers. The Georgia Relief laws are nullified. In other respects, the law is like that admitting Arkansas.

THE TAX BILL,—THE MUNICIPAL BOARD.

WASHINGTON, June 11, M.

The House is determined to push the tax bill through. The probability is that, in ten days, the House will send the bill to the Senate, where the Finance Committee will strike out all except whiskey and tobacco, in which the House is expected to concur, and the reduction in the whiskey tax will probably be consummated during the first or second week in July.

The City Council has organized with a Democratic majority, and, to-night, will elect an ad interim Mayor.

YELLOW FEVER.

NEW YORK, June 11, M

The Gaulting Star's advices represent the Yellow Fever as prevailing in Nicaragua. It is very severe at Lima. The French Minister to Peru and the Peruvian Minister of Foreign Affairs have died with it. It is spreading along the coast.

It went to the committee on Tax Bill!!

The Senate's amendments to the Omnibus admission bill were referred to the Reconstruction Committee.

The chamber councils afterwards met, in the basement of the City Hall, and elected Thomas R. Lloyd, Mayor, ad interim.

The police still recognize Bowen.

FROM ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, June 11, P. M.

On the 5th of June a paper in this city contained the following:

"We are requested by the soldiers on duty at this place to state, that, at the nigger carpet-bag and scallawag meeting, held at the Capitol on Saturday night, the soldiers gave three greats for Grant, three cheers for McClellan and three cheers for Andrew Johnson. They were given by the soldiers with a hearty good will, which rolled from the Capitol to the artesian basin.

We are also requested, by these soldiers, to state that any assertion contrary to this is a base falsehood.

These soldiers say they are white men, and have no love for carpet-baggers and scallawags."

In consequence of the above, the following order, which appeared yesterday, has been issued by Gen. Shepherd, commanding the Sub-District of Alabama:

"The issue of the Montgomery Advertiser, of yesterday, contains a statement, which, if in the slightest degree true, deserves the reprobation of every right-minded soldier of this Sub-District. The statement alluded to applauds, incites and stimulates the soldiers to insubordination and disgrace, by the publication that some have uttered groans against the General of our army, to whom the country has awarded such a commission for his pre-eminent service in suppressing a rebellion aimed at the destruction of our Republic and our freedom as a people. The soldiers in this Sub-District are therefore assured that it is a plain duty to rebuke, in a becoming manner, efforts made by the publication of newspapers, or by other individuals, tending to incite disgraceful acts and insubordination, and also for them to abstain from any expressions as to persons or parties. Thus may soldiers make manifest that they are meritorious and incapable of being led astray by the evil minded, and least of all, by those who have caused the pall of death to cover a million of soldiers.

O. S SHEPERD

DAILY SENTINEL.

FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1868.

GRANDMA'S DREAMS.

I wonder what grandma is thinking about,
As she sits in the corner there,
With the firelight shining into her eyes
And over her silver hair?
She has laid her knitting across her knee,
And folded her hands so thin,
And I know her thoughts are far away,
In spite of the children's din.

I'm sure it is something strange and sweet
That brightens her eyes so dim;
Perhaps she is seeing the golden gate,
And hearing the angels' hymn!
And she smiles to think that she soon will cross
Where the wonderful river rolls,
And gather the rose of her youth again,
In the beautiful garden of souls!

THE AGE OF LOVE.

"Prithee, tell me, Dimple Chin,
At what age does love begin?"

"Oh!" the rosy lips reply,
"I can tell you at a guess;
"'Tis so long I can't remember
Ask some younger miss than I!"

"Then, oh tell me, Grizzled Face,
Dwelleth heart and head long pace?
When do we henry love expire?
When dry fronts put out the fire?"

"Ah!" the wise old lips reply,
"Youth may pass, and strength may die;
But for love! I can't foretell;
Ask some older sage than I!"

ON LABOR.

The following report was read before the New Hanover Agricultural Society, by, from the Committee on Labor, at its late annual meeting:

From the Wilmington Journal.

To the New Hanover Agricultural Society:

The committee appointed to consider and report upon the subject of labor, beg leave to state that this, with us at the South, is of paramount importance. The prosperity of any country depends mainly upon a proper organization of its labor. Unfortunately for us our labor system at the present is utterly disorganized and demoralized. Never were a people so cursed with faithlessness and laziness on the part of its hireling laborers as we are. We shall not enter upon an investigation of the causes which have led to this disastrous demoralization, farther than to say that it is one of the results of a reversal of the old order of things. Men of worth are no longer sought for positions of any kind; but upstarts and witlings have obtained possession of positions which should be occupied alone by men of integrity and the highest attainments. The old tests "is he honest, is he capable," have been entirely lost sight of, and in their stead the bad lesson of impudence and mendacity have been substituted. With such examples, what better can we expect than faithlessness and laziness on the part of laborers who see virtue and merit unrewarded and worthlessness and effrontery at a premium! The consequence is that we are poorer to day than we were two years ago. And this may be especially said of our agricultural classes, for we venture the assertion that not one in fifty of our farmers is not growing poorer day by day and year by year under our prevailing labor system. Nor can such poverty be attributed to a want of enterprize and energy, for our most enterprising and hitherto most successful farmers are those who have most signally failed. It requires no sagacity nor acquaintance even with the plainest truths of political economy, to perceive that this order of things must be reversed or inevitable and permanent ruin will result, and that at no distant day.

As deplorable as this state of affairs is, we must not succumb; it is the part of true manhood to seek a remedy. Our people are casting about with varying views as to what should this be. Your committee may be permitted to offer the following suggestions: In the first place, a marked distinction should be made between the honest and faithful laborer and him who is not so. We must take our stand more firmly on the side of honesty and faithfulness, and we must put forth more union and strength to discourage and suppress opposite habits and tendencies. We do not propose to wage war upon the negro, although in the main, under the influence of the general demoralization of the times, he has been badly corrupted, and as a class is almost worthless and unreliable. When one can be found who is faithful and reliable, we must encourage him and make him feel that his color is no barrier to our appreciation, provided he possesses the qualities for which we are contending. Nor is it to be supposed that we are disposed to cover up the faults of our own race and color. Many of them are no better than the negroes, and some of them are not as good. We must be careful not to class such lazzaroni with industrious and reliable laborers, white or black.

We think, in this revolutionary movement, the introduction of foreign emigration is desirable and necessary, and we are glad to know that this view is rapidly gaining favor with our people. Foreign emigration is no doubtful experiment. The history of the former free States, especially of the Northwest, fully demonstrates this. This kind of emigration has been the very back-bone of their prosperity and success. Can we secure this emigration? We answer emphatically, yes. Let us take the proper steps, and the work can be easily accomplished. And, first of all, we must go into it with a liberal spirit, for we are in a condition to offer emigrants as attractive and substantial inducements as can be found any where. With the mass of evidence in support of this, it is apropos to mention the testimony of Horace Greely, whose opportunities for an accurate judgment in these matters cannot be excelled. He answers to the many emigrants asking his advice, that there is no land of promise more inviting to those seeking homes, with "stout frames and willing hands," than Virginia, Tennessee, and the Carolinas. Your committee may be permitted to say in behalf of North Carolina, and especially this section of it, that in fertility of soil, salubrity of climate, extent and variety of production, it is not excelled by any portion of the United States. Our people, though not ostentatious, are proverbial for hospitality and kindness to strangers, and, without unquestioned integrity of character, will extend as cordial a welcome to the honest emigrant as will the people of any other State.

The sentiments of this report, so often promulgated before, should not pass unheeded by those whose homes are among us and who have so much at stake in this important matter. We should be ready and willing to co-operate with all other individuals and associations who place a proper appreciation upon the importance of this movement for improving our material condition. Acting upon these suggestions, with new life infused into her veins, we trust the day is not far distant when our good old State, relieved from her present embarrassments and depressing influences, will enter upon a new and brighter career of prosperity and renown.

But we have held meetings, and talked and written enough. Action is now the talismanic word. Farmers are and should be men of action, rather than of words. Therefore we may well hope soon to see more tangible results than any yet accomplished.

Respectfully submitted,
S. S. SATCHWELL,
D. T. DURHAM,
S. I. FAISON,
JOHN D. POWERS,
Committee.

May 16th, 1868.

The ice upon which poverty often slips is dignity. A poor man had better stand all the days of his life on the uppers of his shoes, than attempt a "standee ticket" labelled Dignity, especially if his coat has more than seventeen parti-colored patches and fifty holes.

It is a very indiscreet and troublesome ambition which cares so much about fame; about what the world says of us; to be always looking in the faces of others for approval; to be always anxious about the effect of what we do or say; to be always shouting, to hear the echo of our own voices.

"Sire, one word," said a soldier to Frederick the Great, when presenting to him a request of a brevet of Lieutenant. "If you say two," answered the Prince, "I will have you hanged." "Sign," replied the soldier. The Monarch, surprised at his presence of mind, immediately granted his request.

We walk here, as it were, in the crypts of life; at times, from the great cathedral above us, we can hear the organ and the chanting of the choir; we see the light stream through the open door when some friend goes up before us—and shall we fear to mount the narrow staircase of the grave that leads out of this uncertain twilight in to the serene mansions of the life eternal?

At a late court, a man and his wife brought cross actions, each charging the other with having committed assault and battery. On investigation it appeared that the husband had pushed the door against the wife, and the wife, in turn, pushed the door against her husband. A gentleman of the bar remarked, "he could see no impropriety in a man and his wife a-doring each other."

A clergyman, in the course of a sermon, recently remarked: "You need not clasp your hands so fervently in prayer that you can't open them when the contribution box comes round."

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs; in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, moral and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

Terms:

All subscriptions strictly cash in advance.

As an advertising medium, the SENTINEL is equal to any in the State. Terms moderate.

☞ We ask every Conservative in the State to become our Agent to extend the circulation of the SENTINEL. The events of 1868 will be exciting and important. The WEEKLY SENTINEL should be in the hands of the great body of the people—The terms are now so low that every one will be able to pay for it.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required, and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.
